Argos Risk Expands Team to Bolster Marketing Efforts and Deepen Client Partnerships

MINNEAPOLIS – November 18, 2025 – In support of continued company growth and expanding client engagement, Argos Risk, specialists in Third-Party Risk Intelligence Solutions, today announced the hiring of Alexander Boddy as Business Development & Partner Support, effective October 15, 2025. Minnesota.

Alex is joining the Sales and Marketing team under the leadership of Kevin Sasser, Chief Revenue Officer. This addition will allow us to continue to strengthen partnerships, create new business opportunities, and enhance Argos Risk's marketing initiatives.

The company's continued growth is driven by the rising demand for persistent risk monitoring and advanced business intelligence that supports financial health, compliance, and cybersecurity oversight. Industries such as financial services, manufacturing, logistics, and distribution continue to adopt AR Surveillance™ as essential components of operational and strategic programs. Alex will play an important role in advancing these initiatives through relationship-driven development and data-informed marketing.

"We're thrilled to welcome Alex to the team," said Kevin Sasser, Chief Revenue Officer at Argos Risk. "His expertise in business development and client engagement will be invaluable as we continue to expand our subscriber base and deliver value to our subscribers."
